Friday Evening

Mrs. Dr. A. K. Smith very charmingly entertained the young ladies of the Sewing Circle at her lovely home on Glenview Heights. A picnic supper was enjoyed out on the lawn.

Surprise

Mr. and Mrs. George Blosser, of Glenview Heights, had a surprise on their daughter, Miss Mabel, Monday evening. Ten young couples were present and spent a delightful evening. Miss Mabel received several nice presents as the occasion was her 17th birthday.

Flinch

Mrs. Mose Strawn was hostess for the members of the Non-Script Club at her pleasant home last Thursday evening. Several tables of "Flinchers" were present and spent a very enjoyable evening. Refreshments were served after the games and no one "flinched."

Euchre

Honoring Miss Jones, of Jackson, Ohio, Mrs. Ira Lindley gave a very delightful Euchre party last Friday evening. Seven tables of players were present, and handsome prizes taken by Mrs. L. A. Warner, who cheered them all out of a beautiful old glass dish, Mrs. O. W. H. Wright a silver spoon, and Mrs. L. O. Bort received the consolation prize, a bottle of perfume. A two course supper was served which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Padro Club

Mrs. Dr. Ed. Campbell entertained the Young Ladies Padro Club at her cozy home on East Hunter street last Friday evening. A very enjoyable time was spent at this fascinating game, and prizes taken by Miss Flossie Newman and Miss Lucille Allen, who secured the visitors prize. The affair was complimentary to Miss Lulu Hooper, of Columbus. A delicious two course lunch was served. The visitors were Miss Robbin Rochester, Miss Mame Campbell, Miss Emma Becker and Miss Meta Grove.

Bumble-bee Picnic

Mrs. Col. F. F. Rempel gave one of her delightful picnic parties Saturday at her Bumble-bee Grove on the Rempel farm two miles out of town. The "Bumble-bee" were all there, but as yet no reports of the "Bee" have been received. Everything in the eating line was in evidence and all report a most enjoyable outing. The guests besides the hostess were Miss Elizabeth Rempel, Miss Emma Floyd, Mrs. H. F. Ambrose, Mrs. John Monahan, of Nelsonville, Mrs. Bert Stedem, Mrs. Anna Jeffries, Mrs. Adam Lutz, Miss Cara Lutz, Mrs. C. Breen, Mrs. Will Eisele, Mrs. Charles Rice, Miss Mable Rose.

Moonlight Picnic

The home of Miss Jannette Kennard on East Hunter street was the scene of a pleasant gathering of jolly young people who assembled in honor of Miss Florence Corbin, who is soon to leave our city. An elegant supper was served on the lawn, after which games were played until a late hour. Those present were Misses Mary Hall, Carmen Starkey, Lena Phelps, Josephine Graham, Ora Kelly, Gladys Connors, Edna Mel-drum, Lowie Mitchell, Bertha Welch, Florence Corbin and Jannette Kennard. Messrs. George Schwenke, Rochester Bowen, John Craig, Wilford Judy, Harry Yontz and John Daugherty.

Serving

A very pleasant social event was the serving party given last Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. Henry Kessler as hostess. An invitation to this beautiful home carries with it an assurance of a good time and the affair of Thursday was no exception. The parlors were decorated in yellow, interwoven with bitter sweet, palms, ferns and cut flowers. Mrs. Kessler was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. Ed. Donovan, of Lancaster, and Miss Anna Kessler, of Philadelphia. The following ladies rendered some very good musical selections during the afternoon: Mrs. C. E. Bowen, Mrs. H. R. Harrington, Mrs. F. M. McKay, Mrs. Lawrence Yerges, Mrs. John Mohr, of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Bruce Dullison and Miss Charlotte Kessler, the charming young daughter of the hostess. Those present were Mesdames J. T. Sanderson, Theo Lytle, Lawrence Yerges, Rudolph Brown, J. F.

Walker, Bruce Dollison, J. B. Ellison, Porter Waugh, Chas. Lutz, A. M. Sparks, M. N. Parsons, H. R. Harrington, William Gaffney, Chas. Breene, Thos. Shotwell, John Mohr, S. H. Bright, Carlton Bright, F. James, J. Floyd, I. C. Wright, Frank Kessler, B. C. McManigal, T. J. Leyshon, Wm. Naile, F. M. McKay, C. E. Bowen and Mrs. T. D. Miller, of Fremont, Ohio, who is the pleasant house guest of Mrs. Lawrence Yerges. The Misses McCray, Miss Lou Bowen, Elsie Rehren and Miss Parsons.

Social Circle

Mrs. Dr. J. B. Ellison, at her cozy home on East Hunter street, was the hostess for the Social Circle, Wednesday afternoon, and a very enjoyable time was spent in visiting and sewing. Midway of the afternoon, Mrs. Ellison presented a "cat" contest, and Mrs. Walter Rochester, being the best posted on the feline tribe, took club prize, a beautiful china salad dish. Aunt Lou Bowen knew something about cats, too, and captured the visitor's prize, a chape plate, after which she gave a very humorous recitation, which was enjoyed by all. The visitors were Mrs. Rob Sanderson, of Washington, C. H., Miss Anna Kessler, of Philadelphia, and Miss Lou Bowen. Refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Engle. Club meets in two weeks with Mrs. Charles Lutz.

Eightieth Birth Anniversary

September 25th. was a day long to be remembered by the household of Mrs. Lafayette Eggleston Sr., it being her eightieth birth anniversary. Mrs. Eggleston makes her home with her daughter Mrs. Homer Bay, on Glenview Heights, and the good, kind daughter planned a very clever surprise for her mother. A sumptuous dinner was served by Mrs. Bay, who was assisted by Mrs. Will Kessler and Mrs. T. J. Leyshon. The older ladies present were Mrs. John Tomblinson aged 83, Mrs. Kimberling aged 86 and Miss Julia Lee aged 77; together with Mrs. Eggleston, 80, they had a good time in reminiscences of the years past and gone. Besides the old folks, there were present Mr. and Mrs. Jos O'Neill, of Starr, Mrs. Will Kessler and children and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lindsey and children were also guests.

Reception at Athens

A very delightful drawing room reception was given on Wednesday evening, at the residence of Mrs. Major Welch, in Athens, in honor of the their esteemed rector Rev. A. W. Buckland and his wife. The reception was largely attended by members of the University and friends of the church. Refreshments and music was the programme of the hour.

W. C. T. U. Meet

The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. J. M. Bray, Thursday, September 19th. The new officers were present and plans for the coming year were discussed. After the business was disposed of, the hostess served the ladies with dainty refreshments. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Victoria Heft, Thursday, October 3rd, at 2:30 P. M.

Council Proceedings.

The village council met Tuesday evening and very soon evidenced a restlessness that foreboded an early adjournment. From the conversation around it was ad-duced that there was a prominent social event on the tapis for that evening to which the council were largely invited and which was the celebration of the wedding of Mr. W. H. White to Mrs. Myrtle Gano.

On motion of Councilman Lanning all order of business was dispensed with down to the order of 'Report of Finance committee.' That committee reported the following bills approved by them which were passed as a whole by the council:

LOGAN GETS A GOOD BEATING

Inability to hit White, Straitsville's pitcher, poor base running, and ragged fielding caused Logan to meet the worst defeat it has suffered for several seasons. White, for Straitsville, pitched an elegant game and had good support, while Williams, for Logan, with no support at all, did not pitch in usual form, the result giving Straitsville fourteen hits and sixteen runs, while Logan got only four hits and one run.

"Scrappy" Jones and Bennet were unable to reach Logan, the former being called to Chicago on account of his sister's serious sickness. The men who took their places were not able to fill the shoes of the great third baseman and this aided materially in the downfall of the home team. Here is the whole story in a nutshell.

FALL FASHIONS.

Striped Cotton Voile For Waists--How to Bring Frocks Up to Date.

The one new fabric for shirt waists is cotton voile. It washes better than muslin. Blue and white, green and white, pink and white are the colors. These waists have no trimming and are made simply with tucks. The cravat worn under the turnover collar is of taffeta to match the stripe in the voile.

When the rumor began to float around that sleeves were going to be long again the majority of women sighed. Most women cannot afford to throw away gowns that are perfectly good and out of style in only one detail, and they wondered what they were going to do with their short sleeved things. Famine ingenuity will go far, but no alchemy on earth can transform a short sleeve into a long one. But it appears that Dame Fashion is more considerate in this instance than she generally is. The

AN ATTRACTIVE BLOUSE--5600. colored velvet. The suit is of the coat and skirt variety, and the coat is three-quarter length, with cuffs touched with embroidery. A big hat of brown tops the costume.

Velvet ribbon is much seen on light gowns both for day and evening wear, and there are endless ways of bringing it into play. With the little Dutch necks which are greatly in vogue for semi-evening frocks the velvet band is almost invariably a feature, plain, studded with jewels or tied in straight little bows with an ornamental clasp. The waist in the cut is a becoming model for a young girl. Almost any thin material is suitable for this design. In the illustration the trimming is insertion put on in bowknots, but this is a matter of individual taste. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Space Fillers.

Two chance acquaintances on a train between Washington and Philadelphia discovered that they had come originally from the same neighborhood in Delaware and fell to conversing about old times.

"By the way," said the passenger in the skullcap, "whatever became of Harry Mullins?"

"Oh, he's a special writer on one of the New York papers," replied the passenger with the red tie. "Gets $10 a column. Good thing."

"And his brother Dick?"

"Dick's a fat man in a museum. Weighs 410 pounds. Gets a good salary."

"Well, well," mused the man in the skullcap. "Both of 'em have achieved success as space fillers, eh?"—New York Times.

Better Bait.

Teddy's father had brought home some rare old cheese, and after hearing his praise of its strong points Teddy was manfully struggling to make away with a small piece of it. Seeing the cheese still on his plate and Teddy's nose perceptibly elevated, his father said: "What is the matter, Ted? Don't you like that fine cheese?"

"Yes," answered Teddy, with the air of a connoisseur. "This cheese is very good, but I think I like just plain, common mouse cheese better."—Harper's Magazine.

Politeness.

Politeness is a just medium between formality and rudeness. It is, in fact, good nature regulated by quick discernment, which proportions itself to every situation and every character. It is a restraint laid by reason and benevolence on every irregularity of temper, of appetite and passion. It accommodates itself to the laws of custom and fashion as long as they are not inconsistent with the higher obligations of virtue and religion.

sleeves may--indeed, the fashionable sleeve will--be made of different material from the bodice. Thus will the short sleeve evolve into a long sleeve by paths not too trying to a limited purse.

For girls' school suits striped and checked materials in gray and brown colorings or blue serge are most practical and fashionable.

Little boys wear heavy linen suits all during the fall. Illustrated is a suit in khaki cloth that is attractive and will stand any amount of hard wear. JUDIC CHOLLET.

FASHION FORECASTS.

Striped Broadcloths Are Novelties. Julia Marlowe's Gown.

Fancy striped broadcloths are first in the rank of fashion favorites this fall. There is a soft blend to the stripes in this cloth, and the colors in which they are brought out are all in the dark and soft tones. Plain broadcloths are by no means overlooked by Dame Fashion, but in the novelty line stripe effects lead.

Another novelty of the season is the fancy serges called "skibo." They are distinctly Scotch in character and are accounted exceedingly smart. They are shown in the dark shades of leaf green, the burgundy reds and the new blues as well as the more conventional grays and browns, the touch of black mixed in with the color toning down what might otherwise be too glaring a shade.

It is considered the very height of fashion to make up a rough silk in combination with a heavy, plain silk. A little velvet appears in the waist
